OREGON.

The State Library Rooms at Salem are being refitted.

Dr. B. P. Grivey has received the appointment of Postmaster at Hillsboro.

Salem has declared the running of velocipedes on the sidewalks a nuisance, and the Common Council has directed the City Marshal to stop the practice.

M. N. Chapman has been elected Treasurer of the city of Salem, vice C. P. Stratton, deceased; Joseph Thompson, previously elected, having declined to accept the office.

A well known citizen of Marion county went beyond the limits allowed by law, the other day, in chastising his wife, and a Justice of the Peace charged him $20 and costs.

The shipments of Coos Bay coal to San Francisco during January and February this year amounted to 6,059 tons. This will be largely increased in March and April.

A gentleman who came down the valley on the cars yesterday (Wednesday) informs us that all along the road farmers were busily engaged in plowing, and that some have already begun to put in their spring crops.

According to the ninth census report, the ratio of deaths in Oregon during the year ending June 1, 1870, to the whole population, was as 69 to 10,000. The whole number of deaths in that year in the State was 622—337 being males and 285 females.

The Alice came down to Salem Tuesday, bringing 1,400 sacks wheat from Spring Hill, Buena Vista and Independence, three tons apples. eggs, bacon, etc. She took from Salem 30 tons flour, and 200 sacks wheat and 125 boxes apples from Lincoln.

A letter from Willow Forks, Umatilla county, says, "The winter has been the mildest experienced for years. Stock of all kinds is fat, and the grass is four to six weeks earlier than usual at this season of the year. Beef is plenty at 4½ cents per pound. We are just now having some pretty high water, caused by the melting of snow in the Blue Mountains."

Deeds for State lands are made out at the office of the Agent of the Board of School Land Commissioners, and are ready for delivery to the following named parties: Edward Failing, Multnomah county; J. N. T. Miller, Jackson; John Sweek, Washington; L. Howe, Douglas; J. H. Gauntlett, Curry; Henson Javens, Marion; G. C. Gray, Linn; Josiah Failing, Multnomah; J. F. Witten, Marion.

The Statesman of Wednesday says: "Last evening, about dark, a brisk fire was discovered in the woodshed of the house occupied by Mrs. Trotter, on Liberty street. It had unquestionably been kindled by some of the incendiary hoodlums who infest the city. It was fortunately discovered in time to prevent any great damage, though the flames were making considerable headway when first seen."

Since the first of March, up to Tuesday evening, the deeds filed for record in the County Clerk's office at Salem number fifty-five. This is probably the largest number of deeds filed in the same length of time for many years, and shows that the real estate business in Marion county has had a decided revival. The lands transferred were mostly farms, though there was a fair share of town property in the list.

Among other proceedings of the Common Council at Salem, at their last meeting, we notice that by invitation Gen. John F. Miller made some remarks to the Council in regard to the erection of the State Capitol, and on motion a committee of three was appointed to confer with Mrs. Dr. Wilson in regard to her willingness to give a quit-claim deed to Wilson's avenue for other purposes than a public square.

A North Eaton (Mass.) dispatch of March 13th, says:

A complimentary reception dinner was given to Oakes Ames by his townsmen, to the number of 350 in Ames' school-house this evening. Dr. B. Cogswell presided, and when the cloth was removed, welcomed Ames to his home with a brief speech, highly laudatory of his course, and expressed a continued confidence in his honor and integrity. He announced that the demonstration was made irrespective of party, and he felt he expressed the sentiment of all, when he said, that while others sought to cast a stigma upon their representative's fair name and reputation, his constituents had always looked upon him as that noblest work of God—an honest man. He closes with this sentiment: "The Hon. Oakes Ames, like gold from the crucible, he has passed through a fiery ordeal and came out brighter and purer." Ames responded as follows:

My Friends and Neighbors:—I should be less than human not to be gratified and happy at this great gathering of my constituents to show their confidence and faith in my honor, truth and integrity. I am not in the habit of speech-making as you all well know. I have, as you are aware, been a principal subject o abuse for the last six months. The press of the country has been full of what has been called the "Credit Mobilier scandal." The whole offence, if offence it can be called, was in selling $16,000 worth of stock to eleven members of Congress at the same price I paid for it, and at the same price I sold the same stock to others; and if the parties purchasing stock had simply told the truth, and said they had a right to purchase it, that would have been the end of it; but from the fact of their denial, the public suspected there must be something criminal in the transaction, and to find out what the crime was, Congress appointed a committee to inquire if Oakes Ames had bribed any member of Congress. The result was the appointment of the notorious Poland Committee. That Committee was engaged nearly three months, and the result of its labors was to badly damage the characters of some men high in office for truth and verity, but the object of the Committee, to see if Oakes Ames bribed any members, was admitted to be not proven. The Committee made the wonderful discovery that I was guilty of selling stock for less than it was worth, but the parties taking the stock and keeping it were very innocent, and that I had the extraordinary ability to give men bribes without their knowing it and to do they did not know what.

This short speech was received with applause. Congratulatory speeches followed until 11 o'clock, when the reception ended.

LOUIS XIV. AT CHURCH.—Father Seraphin, a Capuchin, preaching before Louis XIV., the Abbe Fenelon, the King's Almoner, fell asleep during the sermon. The preacher, perceiving it, stopped abruptly and exclaimed, "Waken that sleeping abbe, who is evidently here only to pay his court to the King!" Fenelon was fond of relating this anecdote, and, with unaffected nobleness of mind, praised both the preacher and the King, who, by his silence, approved the freedom. He used to narrate another incident: One day the King was astonished to perceive not a person at the service, which was usually crowded with courtiers, and Fenelon alone was with him. He asked the Major of the guard what was the reason. "Sire," he answered, "it was given out that your majesty would not attend service this morning. I am happy in your having this opportunity of knowing those who come here to pay their devotions to God, and those who only come to pay their court to your majesty."

THE TERRITORIES.

The hotels at Olympia are said to be full of people.

Denver, Colorado, has eleven banks. Eight are faro banks.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated at Olympia by a grand ball.

Vigilance committees are frightening ore thieves in the Montana mines.

Missoula county, Montana, recently indulged in a neck tie party. Horse-thieves—parties of the second party.

Dr. D. S. Maynard, who, we believe, was one of the original proprietors of the town site of Seattle, died at that place on the 13th inst.

The Kiowa Indians are threatening Fort Bascom, New Mexico. A few days ago an engagement occurred, and five Indians were "reserved."

The Denver News publishes a black list, specifying accounts due that office from sundry individuals and firms, amounting in all to over $7,000.

The Lewis River Methodist Church reports during the last three months nineteen conversions and twenty additions to the roll of church membership.

According to the census report, the death rate in Arizona was greater during the year ending June, 1870, than in any other portion of our country, being 2 61 to each 100.

The authorities of Salt Lake City lately reduced retail liquor licenses from $3,000 per annum to $1,800, and the people still ask for a further reduction. The Tribune says the saloon keepers are willing to pay $100 per month license, but no more.

The Denver News, of the 5th inst., says "eighteen thousand out of the twenty thousand fish eggs received a few weeks since by J. M. Broadwell, Esq., have hatched during the past week, and the little fish are doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances."

The Denver News says: "Several novices in the sheep business have put in an appearance at Colorado Springs during the last week, and their inquiries at the County Clerk's office have provoked much merriment. One of the individuals desired a rancho with a good supply of water, to afford his sheep a chance for wallowing!"

Isn't Pueblo a nice place to live in? "Horses are being stolen, clothes lines are being stripped, houses are being entered in the middle of the night—in fact everything that is not put under lock and key, is subject to be carried off by these professional Jack Oades that are swarming in on us, and yet we do nothing to prevent this state of affairs." That's the way the local paper paints the picture.

The District Court of the Second Judicial District of Washington Territory was convened last Monday morning by Judge R. S. Green. The docket of civil and criminal cases is large. The following lawyers are in attendance: Messrs. O. B. McFadden, H. G. Struve, B. F. Dennison, Frank Clark, J. P. Judson, J. G. Sparks, Hazard Stevens, J. M. Fletcher, S. Wingard, Francis Henry, Elwood Evans, J. B. Allen and Joseph S. Allen.

From the Courier: "The Government, on recommendation of the Board of Engineers, has set apart tracts of land, a mile square, for military reservations on San Juan, Lopez and Shaw Islands, and also on all the smaller islands between Shaw and Lopez Islands, with a view to their occupancy when necessary for military purposes. Official instructions to this effect were received at the Surveyor General's Office on the 15th inst."

Brigham Young seems to hold cheerful views as to the prospects of Mormondom, notwithstanding the vast amount of threatening thunder that is being launched at him from Washington, now-a-days. In a recent conversation he remarked: "As to the new Governor, we care but very little who is appointed; he can do but little good and but little ill; and to confess the truth, we would like to see Sheridan and 10,000 troops in Utah. They would put money into our pockets, as Uncle Sam's soldiers have always done; and then Phil. Sheridan is a jolly good fellow, and would be heartily welcomed."

GENERAL NOTES AND NEWS.

Maple-sugar making is going on in the Eastern States.

A Georgia jury brought in the verdict of "Guilty, provided the prisoner is the right man."

Boston is awful mad because its goods for the Vienna Exposition must all go by way of New York.

The mice in Rhode Island are very much crowded for room, and some of them will be compelled to emigrate.

Kansas expects to add 75,000 to her population this year if the grasshoppers and potato-bugs are not too numerous.

A Kansas youth has frozen his nose seven times this winter, pacing in front of his sweet-heart's house, waiting for the "other fellow" to leave.

Vermont—where, as is well known, no liquor is sold—has 16,000 drunkards, 4,000 habitual "hard drinkers," and 20,000 young men just beginning to drink.

Everybody knows where umbrellas go to, or rather that they are stolen, but few know that Glasgow, Scotland, is the spot where most of these rain shedders come from.

Ebony wood weighs 83 pounds to the cubic foot; lignum vitæ the same; hickory, 52 pounds, birch, 45 pounds; beech, 40; yellow pine, 38; white pine, 25; cork, 15, and water 62.

A gentleman telegraphed to Vienna for rooms at a leading hotel for his family during the Exposition. He received the reply: "Houses here full until November. Try Dresden."

A Kansas liquor dealer tacks up his business cards in the pews of the churches, and also inserts them in a hymn-books and other localities where they will catch the eyes of the people.

A New York gentleman has discovered that a new sealskin sacque will effect an instantaneous cure upon his wife when she is troubled with a prolonged fit of mental depression.

A pious young man paid $118 for a pen-wiper at a church fair in Brooklyn, N. Y., recently; and though he smiled sweetly on the girl as she took the money, his room-mate says he cussed like Captain Kidd that night after he retired to his couch.

Mentioning that wood fires are cheaper than a doctor's visits, Charles Dudley Warner apologetically adds: "Not that I have anything against doctors; I only wish, after they have been to see us in a way that seems so friendly, they had nothing against us."

The great trouble in forming anti-horse thief associations in Kansas is to find men who are not "on that lay" themselves. If ever able-bodied citizen were compelled to strip on sight, nine out of twelve would be found to have a halter or rope concealed beneath their vests.

The latest man appointed to office in Pennsylvania, is Inspector of Pickled Fish, in Philadelphia. No civil service examination in this instance was required; the applicant simply had to swear his nose would not go back on him under any circumstances, and to support the Union and Constitution.

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 19.

WASHINGTON CITY.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The Senate did nothing to-day beyond discussing the Caldwell case.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—In the Senate, some debate took place on the motion of Wright to consider his resolution proposing that the previous question may be demanded, either by a majority or in some modified form. The resolution was not considered, by a vote of 30 to 32.

Appointments.

The President has decided upon the following appointments: Collectors of Internal Revenue—Amos L. Frost, for Fourth District of California, O. B. Gibson, for Oregon. The nomination of G. B. Hitchcock, to be Collector at San Diego, California, was to-day reported from the Senate Committee of Commerce without recommendation. His confirmation will be opposed.

Confirmations.

The following confirmations have been made by the Senate: Daniel Chaplin, Receiver of Public Money at La Grande, Oregon. Registers of Land Offices—W. J. Small at Linkville, Oregon, J. H. Stevens at La Grande, Oregon. Postmasters—S. D. Smith, Walla Walla, W. T.; E. A. Clark, San Jose, California. Collectors of Customs—W. D. Hare for Oregon. John Goforth was confirmed as Assistant Attorney General of the United States. The confirmations are to take effect April 5th. David Noggle was confirmed as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Idaho, A. P. Safford as Governor, and C. Bashford as Secretary for Arizona.

Appointments for the Vienna Exposition.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The following named persons have been appointed by the President to attend the Vienna Exposition: Practical artisans—Lyman Bridges, of Illinois, and G. A. Stanberry, of Ohio. Scientific men—J. L. Smith, of Kentucky, and J. A. Warder of Ohio. A large number of honorary committees to the Exhibition have been appointed, among whom are Jas. Neuman, of California, and Chas. Smith, of Oregon.

What the President Knows about Office-Seekers.

The President declared to an office-seeker to-day, that the rush for office since the 4th of March far exceeded that of four years since, when he first entered the White House, and that what few appointments remained to be made, he intended to dispose of at once and thus get rid of the terrible pressure.

The Caldwell Bribery Case.

Continued assaults on Caldwell from both Democratic and Republican quarters, encourage the hope that he will finally be expelled. Morton says he would not be surprised if his resolution declaring his seat vacant would be carried, but this is not generally anticipated, although the debate of the last few days has had the effect to make a perceptible gain of votes in the direction of expulsion. Conkling has the floor to-day. An elaborate and technical argument from him is expected, against Morton's resolution.

Colorado Governorship.

Governor McCook having declined a reappointment to the Governorship of Colorado Territory, the President will send to the Senate the name of S. H. Elbert, of that Territory, as his successor, the appointment to take effect April 7th, on the expiration of McCook's term.

Sawyer Confirmed.

The Senate confirmed the nomination of Sawyer as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

EASTERN STATES.

The Foster Case.

ALBANY, March 18.—A document was presented to Gov. Dix to-day, sworn to by several of the jurors in the Foster case, stating that conviction could never have been obtained but for the belief of the jury that a recommendation to mercy would procure a commutation of his sentence to imprisonment for life, and asking the Governor to prevent the execution. The Governor said he would give the document careful consideration.

Erin goes for Italia.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The Irish laborers who were lately employed on the Boulevards determined to "clean out" the Italian laborers who took their places at less wages, and so to-day a large force of rioters marched to the place where the Italians worked, but the police drove them away. It is feared there will be trouble to-morrow.

Locomotive Strikers.

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—Quite a number of locomotive strikers have been arrested at Mobiller and several captured yesterday at Lexington and were placed in Richmond jail. Another engine has been detached at St. Charles.

Naval Officer Detached.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Capt. Frances A. Roeben, detached from command of naval force at San Francisco, is temporarily succeeded by Commander McDougal.

More Murder.

AUBURN, March 18.—Jailor Fields, who was struck with a bar of iron by Perry,—who with three others escaped from the jail in this city on Friday last—died this morning. Perry is still at large.

A Righteous Judgment.

NEW YORK, March 18.—In Brooklyn to-day Wm. L. Hatch, a detective convicted of perjury in a divorce suit, was sentenced to prison for six years and three months, and David Dowd and Eugene Small (fire bugs), convicted of arson, were sentenced to seven years each in States prison.

The Insanity of Train.

NEW YORK, March 19.—There seems but little doubt but that George Francis Train is insane. Dr Hammond, one of the doctors commissioned by District Attorney Phelps to examine into Train's mental condition, says with some reluctance that the commission found Train to be a man of good education and of brilliant intellect, but undoubtedly of unsound mind. When, however, the usual form of commitment was presented for signature, Dr. Hammond refused to sign it, as he does not believe Train to be a person dangerous or likely to do bodily harm either to himself or anybody else. The usual commitment will not be signed, and of course he cannot be transferred to an asylum. Train's latest assertion is that in thirty days not one stone in the bastile should be left standing on another, and that the streets of New York are to run with blood. Should this come to pass he may be dangerous enough, but his assertions are regarded as words—idle words.

Saved.

Bermuda advices report that the captain and twelve of the crew of the Italian bark, which founded at sea on the 14th of February, arrived on the 5th inst. in an open boat.

Read out of the Party.

At a meeting of the Republican Central Committee last evening, remarks were made by prominent members to the effect that Mayor Havemeyer was not to be regarded as a member of the party.

The Foster Case.

ALBANY, March 19.—Gov. Dix has announced that he still sees no reason for interfering in the case of Foster.

A Sunday School Teacher Comes to Grief.

NEW YORK March 19.—Treasury Agent Jaynes reports that a well known and respected Wall street sugar importer, who is also a Sunday School Superintendent and member of the Board of Foreign Missions, has been detected in smuggling silks in sugar samples which are passed free. The extraordinary weight of the samples excited suspicion. The duty on the silks captured amounts to five hundred dollars. It is believed that this smuggling has been successfully carried on for a long time. Jaynes refuses to disclose the name of any of the culprits.

A Railroad to be Sold.

A special from Boston says Judge Shepley refused to grant an injunction to prevent the foreclosure by bondholders of a first mortgage in the case of the Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad.

Sale of Bonds.

Seventeen offers of bonds to-day amounting to four millions at 13.26@14 99; a million was purchased at 13 29@13.49.

The Centerville Fire.

CINCINNATI, March 19.—The fire at Centreville, Ohio, yesterday, destroyed the principal part of the town, including stores, shops and dwellings.

Miscellaneous.

ROME, March 18.—The Pope gave audience yesterday to one hundred Canadians who had served in the Pontifical Zouaves. He congratulated his visitors upon their steadfast devotion to the church.

Immense Riot in England.

LONDON, March 19.—A furious riot between Englishmen and Irishmen occurred at Wolverhampton, near Birmingham, yesterday, in which at least 3,000 persons engaged. Firearms and knives were freely used and much blood was shed, though no cases of fatal injury have been reported.

The English Cabinet.

Gladstone and his cabinet colleagues were in consultation four hours yesterday. Nothing is yet known as to the result of this meeting.

Three men were arrested at Cork yesterday on suspicion of being the perpetrators of the frauds on the Bank of England, but were released this morning, there being no evidence against them.

CANADA.

MONTREAL, March 19.—At the fire at St. James' hotel, yesterday, Mary Brannan died of suffocation. Hilditch, who fell from a window, died this morning. Two others are suffering from dangerous injuries. Losses foot up $20,000.

TORONTO, March 19.—The Globe substantiates the charge of forgery against Dogo, member for North York, by publishing a letter from Canon Ramsay, denying his ever having writ en the letter signed with his name.

The Ontario Government proposes to establish in the Province three new normal schools.

UTAH.

Gov. Woods to take a Foreign Mission.

SALT LAKE, March 19.—It is reported by parties who lately arrived from Washington, that President Grant intends to offer Gov. Woods of this Territory an important foreign mission.

Marriage under Difficulties.

Al Kinson, a Sacramento sharp, was arrested yesterday at Ogden, on a charge of seducing a young girl of this city. He was brought before the Police Justice to-day, but escaped the penalty of the crime by marrying his victim.

Libel Suit.

One of the Mormon bishops threatens the editor of the New Endowment with a libel suit for alleged false report of a recent discourse wherein the Bishop appears to have used outrageous language towards the gentiles.

Miscellaneous.

The steamer City of Corinne, on Great Salt Lake, will resume her regular trips in a few days.

The City Council has ordered a strict enforcement of quarantine regulations to prevent the spread of the small-pox.

There are heavy receipts of silver bullion from Pioche, Thirty bars, valued at fifty thousand dollars came in to-day for shipment East.

Dog trains are used in transporting provisions from Alta City, Little Cottonwood, to the neighboring mines.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, March 19.—Several well known experts examined the consolidated Virginia to-day, and pronounce it one of the most important developments made on the Virginia end of the Comstock for years.

The general manager of the Nevada Gift Concert has positively appointed Saturday, June 21st, as the day on which the drawing and distribution of prizes will take place.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Passenger overland: J. R. Montgomery, Portland.

The Oriflamme will sail for Portland to-morrow, and the Ajax for Victoria. The Constitution is due from Panama to-day, and the Alaska from Hongkong.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Battery A, 4th U. S. Artillery, has been ordered to the seat of the Modoc war, and will leave on Friday next.

The Directors of the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum, find the charges against the principal, Wilkinson, untrue, but advise his brother, Charles Wilkinson, to resign his position as teacher.

A Southern Arizona transportation company is about to be organized in this city.

The Constitution, from Panama, arrived this evening.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

LOS ANGELES, March 19.—The epizootic has arrived at our city. The disease is very mild and no ill effects are likely to result.

In the District Court, in the case of Prater vs. Prater, a decree of divorce was granted awarding plaintiff custody of the child and her maiden name.

Vivian closes a very successful engagement in this city to-night.

SAN DIEGO, March 19.—We are advised by several agriculturist from various parts of the country that crops are so far advanced that from one-half to an inch more rain the present month will insure them; while anything above that will produce an abundant harvest, the like of which has not been seen in this country for years.

Weather clear and warm.

A meeting of miners and settlers was held in Julian on the 16th. The preamble and resolutions introduced by the Executive Committee contain the following: "That we the citizens of this vicinity will under no consideration accept or even listen to any terms of compromise with the grantees of the so-called Cuyamaca Grant, but will contest their claim with renewed vigor until decided by the legally constituted authorities." They will invite spies to leave the district.

The Newcastle Mystery.

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—Advices from Newcastle, Placer county, say that owing to the peculiar circumstances attending the disappearance of the little Coats girl from her home near Newcastle, many residents were inclined to the belief that she had of her own free will left the neighborhood. Yesterday, however, an intense interest as to the fate of the missing girl again broke out. Rumors of foul play were freely circulated, and at an early hour this morning between two and three hundred persons started in search of the girl, determined to discover her, dead or alive. To-night there are many rumors afloat as to her fate, but they cannot be traced to any reliable source.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

Arrival of the Excursionists at Albany—"The First Steamer Direct from Portland."

ALBANY, March 19.—The Willamette River Transportation Company's new steamer Gov. Grover arrived at the wharf in this city about 8 o'clock to-day, and was greeted with many cheers by a large crowd on the wharf. After stopping a few minutes she proceeded up the river, intending to go as far as Harrisburg. The Gov. Grover is the first steamer that ever reached Albany direct from Portland.

The weather is clear and spring-like.

THE MODOC WAR.

VAN BREMER'S, March 18.—Everything is quiet at the seat of war, and, except the occasional moving of troops from post to post, there is really nothing going on. A squaw came from Capt. Jack's camp the other day and said the Indians were mad at losing the ponies which Col. Biddle captured.

We have now in camp three batteries of the Fourth Artillery, two companies of the Twelfth Infantry, and one troop of the First Cavalry—making in all about 250, rank and file. There are two troops of the First Cavalry at Dorris' ranch, four companies of the Twenty-first Infantry at Lost River, and two troops of the First Cavalry at Clear Lake. The total number of troops is about 550 or 600. General Canby is very reticent as to what move he intends to make, for fear the Indians would learn his intentions through the agency of some of the squaw men. From preparations that are being made, I'm led to believe that we will move camp before long, and completely surround the lava bed. There will be three or four camps—one on the banks of Tule lake, at the foot of the bluffs, about two miles due west of Jack's cave; another at the foot of the lava butte, about four miles south of Jack's cave; another at Land's ranch, on the eastern side; and perhaps some on the peninsula to the northeast of the cave. These movements will probably be made in the course of a few days. Mr. Odeneal, the additional member to the Peace Commission, will arrive in about five days.

YREKA, March 19.—Capt. A. J. Fairchild arrived from the front this evening. From him we learn that there is no material change in the attitude of the Modoc question. He is of the opinion that the Modocs will not negotiate a peace upon any terms yet offered them, unless they are compelled to, and in that case a battle will be inevitable. The personel of the Commission had nothing to do with Jack's actions. He does not want to leave that country. He says that Jack told him, during the first interview he had with him, that the Snakes had offered him sixty warriors, but he did not want them. He thinks now, from Jack's different devices to gain time, that he has concluded to take them. Several cochon mortars, with implements and ammunition, have been received at headquarters, and can be used to good advantage in case of a fight.

More Indian Trouble.

[From the Statesman, March 19.]

Letters were received at the Executive office within the last day or two, from the citizens of Chewacan valley, and from Ochoco and Crooked river, representing that the settlers in those regions are becoming very uneasy in regard to the Indian situation.

The letter from Chewacan valley was written at the request of a meeting of the settlers during the latter part of February. It represents that rumors had been afloat for some time to the effect that Indians had been seen frequently passing through or near the settlement under circumstances that were suspicious. At last, these rumors roused some of the citizens to keep watch. In a few days, four men who were out hunting cattle, came upon a party of Indians who, upon the approach of the whites, hid among the rocks on a high ridge. They were armed with rifles. The white men, however, approached them, when one of the Indians came out and called out that he was an Applegate Indian and a "good Indian." Subsequently the party found another lot of Indians who acted in the same way. The understanding among the settlers is that such actions do not indicate friendliness. The Chewacan valley is near enough to the Modoc country to make the settlers a little nervous, anyway. The Indians referred to are Piutes.

The communication from Ochoco is a petition signed by a considerable number of the settlers of Ochoco, Crooked river and Beaver creek valleys. It recites the exposed condition of the settlements, and the uneasiness prevailing among the settlers, and asks the Governor to use his Executive influence with the proper authorities to get a military post established at some point near the eastern boundary of the Ochoco basin. We understand that Governor Grover has transmitted copies of both communications to General Canby.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 20, 1873

A Pertinent Inquiry

In the Bulletin of yesterday morning appears a calm and passionate summary of Mr Geo L Cole's eminent services in behalf of the Republican party. With commendable candor it is announced that the appointment of that gentleman as Postmaster for this city was not made to please the OREGONIAN. This fact we will not dispute; but will the Bulletin inform us just whom the appointment was intended to please? This is a point of some interest just now. It is of interest to those Republicans who stood by the Government in that hour of greatest peril when Geo L Cole was drumming against the war as a miserable failure. It is of interest to the thousands whose inquiring eyes will scrutinize the history of our Commonwealth to find the page whereon the real substantial effective service to the Republican party "with which the Bulletin credits Mr Cole is recorded. It will also be of interest doubtless to those neophytes in the Bulletin's political mysticism who cannot understand the wondrous process whereby the blatant politician curvetting at the head of a Democratic triumphal procession is transformed into a thorough-going Republican.

We have characterized the Bulletin's defense of Mr Cole as a summary of his services. We now ask our neighbor to particularize those services. Let this candidate for one of our most important offices expose the record upon which his claim is based. If it be one of whose immaculate purity we, as Republicans, may be proud let us be enlightened that we may rejoice at the reward of his long fidelity. This demand may involve some disclosures of an unpleasant nature, since it is understood that Mr Cole's "services to the Republican party" are of that peculiar sort which shrinks (modestly?) from the scrutiny of community. The analogical reasoning of the Bulletin is one of the most impudent attempts to make a Republican character for Mr. Cole that brazen audacity could invent. We leave an honest community to judge of the aptness of the assertion that "Mr Cole has a more distinctive record as a Republican than Gen Grant had when the Republican party first made him President." Where, then, was Mr Cole, when the gallant Grant was preaching the gospel of bayonet and shrapnel at Shiloh, at Vicksburg, and a hundred other fields, whereon his name is writ in lustrous syllables? And what was he doing? To this "most lame and impotent conclusion" must that paper come at last that Mr Cole has been a Republican "since 1868," that by the system of vassalage to which the editor of that paper pays tribute to-day, the fetters of Mr. Holladay were placed upon his hands outstretched in joyful willingness to receive them, that his devotion to his master led him, incidentally, to support the party which fostered his master's enterprise, that his "valuable service" was bounded in all directions by a salary.

It is said that Mr Cole's "efforts in behalf of the Republican party in 1872," achieved for him greater prominence than was vouchsafed to the editor of the OREGONIAN. It may be proper to remark that the system of warfare in which the protege of the Bulletin gained renown is not recognized by the editor of the OREGONIAN as necessary to the purity of American politics. The "editor of the first column" has challenged this investigation into Mr Cole's record as a Republican, we now demand of him that he particularize the "valuable services" of which he vaunts. Let there be no evasion, but rather an "equitable adjustment" of the crooked parts in Mr Cole's pseudo-Republican character.

New Hampshire has always been considered a State of uncertain political complexion. In the election of the 12th inst., the issues were complicated by local quarrels, the sad disclosures of Credit Mobilier infamy disheartened many Republicans and encouraged the opposition and a general apathy was evident from the first. It has been claimed that the Democrats elected their Congressional candidates in all the districts —three in number. But San Francisco advices of the 15th, say that additional returns show that two Republican Congressmen are elected without doubt. Governor Straw (Rep) has a majority of 600. It had been thought that the election of Governor would be thrown into the Legislature as the constitution of New Hampshire makes a majority vote necessary to election. One feature worthy of note is the fact that the Liberal ticket received but 400 votes throughout the State. This is a large falling off from the November vote. The Democratic vote shows a very small increase over the November vote. These facts would seem to indicate that the Liberal Republicans of New Hampshire have returned to the old Republican organization.

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors furnishes us a specimen of rude eloquence and effective logic in the remark of a male individual, which his name it is Plunkett. The subject under discussion was the appointment of a lady teacher to a position in the public schools. Mr Plunkett rashly ventured to ask that her "qualifications" be inquired into. This was more than the meek and lowly Mosgrove could stand. He could endure to have Plunkett vote against his candidate, but this covert assault on her good name,—this beastly interrogation as to her qualifications was more than Spartan Mosgrove could stand. He thought that this insinuation against the purity of Miss —— character was exceedingly mean and contemptible. Plunkett lifted his eyebrows in mild surprise and remarked briefly as follows: "You're a blackguard and a liar." It is such pleasant episodes as this that make the monotony of educational meetings in San Francisco endurable. The "Oregon style" has emigrated.

The Washington Chronicle takes up the cudgel in behalf of Ben Butler. The General's noted remark that he is "a God made, not a press made man" disturbed the Boston Globe somewhat. Senator Harlan tells the Boston journal that no man in the country has been more shamefully scandalized by the opposition press than General Butler, and says further that Ben has this in view when he makes one of his sensational utterances against the licentiousness of the press. If we may judge of the General's sensitiveness or the veracity of his accusers by his wonderful success as a leader in Congress we should say that he can stand more good sound abuse than any other public man of our day.

That enterprising journal the New York Herald far outstrips all its New York contemporaries by engaging Edmund Yates the distinguished English novelist, and Don Piatt to "do" the inauguration.

Sunset Cox has said a great many good things in the course of his lifetime, and we had hoped that he would retire from Congress leaving behind him nothing but an epigram on Credit Mobilier and a radiant smile. But Sunset is like many of his fellow mortals: his steps slide at times. He is the unfortunate author of a proposition to tax macaroni, and now the Italian organ grinders of New York and Washington are making it mournful for him. They serenade him four times every night. They waylay him on street corners and play the Dead March in Saul. To escape the macaroni-eaters Sunset will visit the South instead of Rome. He says he has lost his fervent love for Italian skies and things Roman.

While Congress is dilly-dallying with corruption in high places and the Legislatures of several of the States are struggling with poor success against the Railroad contractors, it is gratifying to know that the Methodist Episcopal Church in Baltimore has summarily expelled one of its preachers. Rev Dr L D Huston has been on trial for some time on charges of gross immorality and conduct unbecoming a minister. No particulars have been vouchsafed us, but it is presumed that the irreverend gentleman has been taking advantage of Oakes Ames' famous aphorism. At any rate he has been formally expelled, and the church breathes more freely.

Nothing has been heard lately from the $7 000 with which Mr York procured Mr Pomeroy's defeat. The bank notes were laid on the Speaker's table, we are told. Somebody is out $7 000. Mr Page the banker to whom Senator Pomeroy had promised this $7 000 (according to the Senator's story) argues that he (Page) is the loser. A few weeks since he commenced a suit in replevin against York. This has been abandoned however and proceedings for the recovery of the sum named have been commenced in Kansas.

Rev Otis Gibson lectured in Platt's Hall in San Francisco last Friday evening, on "The Chinese." The lecture was designed to be an answer to the address of Father Bouchard, a prominent Roman Catholic priest of California. The lecturer is well known as a former missionary to China and his intimate acquaintance with the customs, language, and social and political institutions of the Flowery Kingdom made his lecture most entertaining and instructive.

The New York Herald of March 4th gravely informs its readers that "the George S. Wright is close ashore near a village of the Kuergufath Indians, a fierce tribe of savages." The arrival of each steamer furnishes us with such important additions to our local and other nomenclature as the above. If the Kuergufath Indians be half as fierce as their name would indicate they are savage indeed.

The New York Tribune announces that it has in press, and will shortly publish, a new edition of "Recollections of a Busy Life" containing an Appendix in which is given a record of Mr Greeley's life since the first publication of the volume. The work is to contain a photo lithographic reproduction of one of the best likenesses of Mr Greeley.

A pamphlet entitled "Arguments before the Committee on Military Affairs of the Senate, for and against the Bill to lease Goat Island for a Railway Terminus," has reached us. It is a document of 63 pages, containing arguments by the California delegation in Congress and the representatives of the Central Pacific Railroad.

In answer to a question by Senator Logan, Chairman of the Goat Island Committee: "Is the city (San Francisco) Republican or Democratic?" Mr Sargent facetiously replied "Sometimes one and sometimes the other. It is variable. In good years, when the people of the city are sensible, it goes Republican."

On the 11th inst., the President sent to the Senate the following nominations: Cornelius Allen, of Kansas, to be Minister to China; John A. Foster to be Minister to Mexico and Frank W. Peters, to be Consul at Marseilles. Of these, John A. Foster alone had been confirmed at latest advices.

The French Government is talking about adopting the American system for the measurement of vessels. An official application, asking for all information relative to the subject, has been received at Washington.

OUR FOREIGN IMMIGRATION.—It is by no means strange that several of the European Governments are endeavoring by all the means in their power to discourage immigration. A picture of the benefits derived by this country from its influx of foreign population, drawn by the London Globe will show that there is good cause for the objection made. Here is an extract from its plaint:

Last year 100,000 foreigners were landed at the different seaports, or in other words 1 in every 95 of the whole population of the Union was at the end of the year a stranger. The labor and capital values represented by these arrivals are immense. It is calculated that on an average, each of the emigrants brings with him about £35. By this means alone £14 000 000 in solid cash gold and silver was added to the wealth of the country. Americans who have a turn for calculation put down the number of useful workers at 150,000, and the value of each able bodied unit so arriving even the first year at from £50 to £60. Thus in one year £10 000 000 are added to the industrial resources and for the purposes of taxation to the revenue of the country. The life value of each emigrant being regarded as quite £250, one year's emigration represents the stupendous sum of £100 000 000. This wholesale emigration does more. The industrial capacity of the new comers employed in the eight great food producing States of the West (Ohio Illinois, Indiana Michigan Wisconsin Minnesota Iowa and Missouri) is bringing much land into profitable cultivation and in a short time will so increase its cereal produce as to reduce the price of bread at home which regulates all other prices, and undersell foreign countries in their own markets.

A cable despatch of the 12th inst. gives the following additional particulars of the defeat of the Gladstone Ministry:

There was a great gathering at the Reform Club to-night, at which the liberals who voted against the Government on the Irish University bill declared they would support a resolution of confidence if Gladstone is willing to accept it. But it is known that the latter is anxious for release from office. Last night's whip was the severest ever known in the House of Commons. One conservative member was brought from Paris by a special steamer and railroad train and the liberal whip is reported to have beseeched Sir Robert Peel almost upon his knees to go to the House, but fruitlessly.

The students of Trinity College, Dublin have burned Gladstone in effigy.

In his latest work— The Eagle's Nest, Ten Lectures on the Relations of Natural Science to Art —Mr Ruskin has the following fair hit:

"There is not one person in a million who knows what a "million" means, and that is one reason the nation is always ready to let its ministers spend a million or two in cannon, if they can show they have saved twopence half penny in tape.

FIRST TRIP OF THE GOV GROVER

SUCCESSFUL AND FAST TRIP TO SALEM—ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION BY THE PEOPLE—NO MORE MONOPOLY

ALBANY, March 19, 1873

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

True to her advertised time the splendid new steamer the Gov Grover the first of the Willamette Transportation Company's line swung clear of her dock at Portland on Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock and for the first time bearing away with her the hearty cheers and fervent good wishes of the interested crowd assembled to witness her departure turned her bow and most gracefully shaped her course toward the waters of the upper Willamette. The boxes and bales of merchandise piled on board of her demonstrated that this time she meant business. After a quick run to Milwaukie and calling also at Oswego she rounded to at Oregon City at 7¼ o'clock. The sound of her whistle at that place was responded to by a general rush of the citizens to the river banks who, knowing the hour she was to leave Portland had not expected her to arrive so soon by at least half an hour. Here she remained 30 minutes.

THROUGH THE LOCKS

Taking on a few more passengers and invited guests she crossed the river and entered the Canal. In passing through to the second lock her side struck a spar which had been placed as a temporary fender, causing it to drop into the water. It floated to the gates which were astern and became jammed beneath in such a manner that the gate could not be closed until a purchase had been rigged to dislodge the post from under it, causing considerable delay. With this exception no detention occurred in the canal and locks, and Capt Isaac Smith the Superintendent of the construction of that important and extensive work, who was on board the steamer had the satisfaction of seeing her pass safely through from the lower to the upper end without the slightest accident or injury. At 3 25 the steamer left Canemah passing Rock Island fifteen minutes afterwards which was remarkably good time to make through the rapids common to this part of the river, calling in rapid succession at the towns of Buttoville Wheatland Fairfield and Lincoln, and reaching Salem at 5 20 P M. Leaving there at 6 o'clock, the steamer was tied up for the night at Independence reaching that place a distance of 15 miles, in something less than an hour and a half. At 4:10 this morning we started for this city, arriving at 8 o'clock.

INCIDENTS

About fifty passengers and a few invited guests availed themselves of this, the first trip of the Gov Grover, among whom we noticed B Goldsmith, Esq., President of the Canal and Locks Company, Capt Joseph Kellogg, Vice President W Lair Hill, Esq., Edwin Russell, Esq., manager of the Bank of British Columbia, I M King Esq reporter of the Daily Herald, Capt Joseph Paquet, contractor for the building of the steamer, Judge Moldrum, Messrs Baum Steers, R H Thompson and Capt West, engineer in charge of the canal and locks, all of whom were unanimous in their praise of the generous efforts made by the officers in charge to contribute to their creature comforts and the perfect enjoyment of the trip. Captain Holman proved himself every inch a Captain as he is a gentleman. Under the careful manipulation of such pilots as Captains Charles Kellogg and Vickers, the Grover ploughed the waters "like a thing of life," and under the supervision of Chief Engineer Geo Marshall her machinery worked like a charm.

RECEPTION

If the cordial greeting and enthusiastic reception tendered the steamer at the various landing points, and even the solitary farm houses and dwellings on the banks of the river, can be considered as an augury of success, then indeed she has a bright and prosperous future ahead.

At each place her arrival was greeted by repeated cheers by the men, waving of handkerchiefs by the ladies, and even the little children partook of the general exhilaration, and would dance for joy as it were. The demonstrations at Salem must have been particularly gratifying to those gentlemen on board who by a liberal expenditure of capital, have evinced their confidence in the growing prosperity of the State, by thus inaugurating a new era in the history of the navigation of the beautiful river which contributes so much to the value of the rich soil of this beautiful valley. His Excellency, Governor Grover, was on hand with hundreds of his fellow citizens and scores of ladies, extending a cordial welcome to his handsome and well appointed namesake. Smiles of gratification beamed on every countenance, and three rousing cheers with an appropriate "tiger," were responded to by the same number of sonorous whistles from the steamer. As soon as a plank-way was placed ashore, the steamer was literally besieged by visitors, and honest and sincere were the hand shakings and congratulations tendered by the citizens of Salem to all on board. The handsome appearance, beautiful finish, and convenient accommodations appeared to excel their most sanguine expectations, and many were the good wishes expressed for her success and welfare.

The good people of Independence were in no way behind their sister town in extending to us a hearty welcome, and although the night had closed in, the landing was crowded with expectants. We were informed that about fifty farmers from various parts of the county, had come to town expressly to tender a welcome greeting to the boat, which they claim has been built specially for their benefit. And just here I will express the wish that this unpretending communication, written by one who has no interest in the matter, other than the desire to promote the general welfare of the State at large —might be read by every farmer and merchant who exports and imports merchandise and grain on the route on which the Willamette River Transportation Co intend to run their steamboat, in order that he might impress upon their minds the absolute necessity there is that they must now realize the fact that it rests with them whether or no this desirable and healthy competition with monopoly, shall succeed. The energetic and enterprising gentlemen composing the Company have done their part and performed it well. There is no danger of their boats being withdrawn by a subsidy. They are fully aware that no one or two boats will be equal to the emergency. Shippers may rely upon it, that a sufficient number of boats will be put on to meet the demand. The Grover is a guarantee that they are in earnest and they look to the farmers to meet them in earnest on the principle and motto they have adopted, "live and let live." Of course there will a material reduction in their freight and passenger tariff by the opposition. They expect it and anticipated it before they invested their capital and time in the construction of this boat. But they have depended and relied upon the good sense and judgment of those who have it now in their power to show their appreciation of their redemption from the grasp of a powerful monopoly, and such are or ought to be fully aware that to enjoy that redemption they must patronize this line on the aforesaid live and let live principle, even if an opposition company offers to carry their goods for nothing and pay them a bonus to boot for shipping by them.

One more remark and I will close. Your correspondent as well as many others were much interested in witnessing the outbursts of pleasure manifested by scores of old residents in the river towns in welcoming back to his old profession their long tried friend Capt Joseph Kellogg. To all of them he appeared as he stood smiling on all from the hurricane deck as an old friend in a new dress. Since the transfer of the old P T Company to the W T Company Capt Joe popular with all, has been "lost to sight" to these old friends, but from his warm reception yesterday he may rest assured he has been held by them "to memory dear."

C

The New York Herald demands the execution of the law in Foster's case. It cannot see that anything is to be gained by a commutation of sentence, but holds to the belief that the interposition of executive clemency would be positively harmful. It says:

All of Foster's friends among them ex Mayor Gunther, ask for the commutation of the sentence on the ground that Foster never intended to kill Putnam. This is an insult to justice to reason and to common sense. No man ever went to work more deliberately to take the life of his victim. Neither his anger nor his drunkenness can be any excuse for his crime. Of all the letters submitted to the Governor the only one that is creditable to its author is that of Mrs Putnam. Her letter is simply the wail of a heart broken woman—"It will not restore me my husband to make Foster's wife a widow." This is the logic of the heart, but not of justice. The time for trifling with murderers has gone by, and now we must hang them.

A Philadelphia despatch of the 12th says:

Two hundred and ten thousand pounds of wool rolls and yarn were sold at auction at 12½ and 15 cents per pound for wool and 33 and 90 cents for yarn.

GENERAL NOTES

The Legislature of Illinois has been debating on a resolution to pay $500 for a set of surveying instruments once used by Lincoln, to be placed in the State Library until the time spent amounts to several times the worth of the set, and still is unable to decide whether it is worth more than $100 or not.

Boston has conceived and will enforce an educational innovation. It is designed more fully to banish her girls from the kitchen and the pile of underned stockings. A class is to be formed, and a trip to Europe will be made with Berlin as the objective point. While on the ocean, its physical geography, its life, the principle which governs winds, currents, climates and meteorological phenomena in general will be studied. A thorough tour of Europe will be made.

Gen Michael Czaykowski who has returned to Poland after 19 years exile and service in the Turkish army where he is known as Sadyk Pasha now declares himself a zealous supporter of the Russian Government. He thinks if the Poles had not drifted into an insane rebellion against Alexander II, they would be a happier and more respected people than they are. The choice now, he believes, is between Russification and Germanism.

The Commissioner appointed by the Governor of Minnesota to make a personal examination in to the number of fatalities attending the late storm has reported the total deaths in the fourteen counties where the storm was fiercest to be twenty. There were many cases of frozen limbs that required amputation and many pairs of oxen and horses were frozen but the loss of human life was as appears from this report greatly exaggerated in the first accounts. Some of the bodies have not yet been found.

Boston is doing splendidly. The late mild weather has been taken advantage of to clear away the ruins, and many new walls are fast rising in the burnt district where the streets have been located. The buildings in process of erection are of a much more substantial character than their predecessors. The walls are massive in thickness there is less woodwork introduced, the fronts will be more generally of iron, brick and marble than was the case in the old stores and appliances will be introduced very generally for their protection against fire. At the same time the march of trade is tending southward. Bedford, Chauncey, Essex, Oxford, and even Edinboro streets, have been invaded and the first named avenues have been entirely relinquished to the demands of the jobbers in dry goods and other fabrics. Dwelling houses have been converted into stores in all these streets, and in many instances the relocation of the burned out merchants will be made permanent.

THE LATE EMPEROR'S RELIGIOUS OPINIONS —A few weeks before the death of the late Emperor Napoleon he received a visit from the correspondent of the Paris Univers to whom he expressed some sentiments concerning his relations with the church. He said to this gentleman that he adhered heart and soul without any mental reservation whatsoever to the dogma of papal infallibility, and he expressed his regrets that he had seemed shortly before the definition had been made at the Vatican Council, to oppose it. "I am a submissive son of the Roman Catholic Church," said the Emperor, "I believe beforehand all that it teaches, and in spite of all the bad theology with which I was wearied in the latter end of my reign, I always promised myself to bow my head like an infant as soon as the Church has spoken. I never had any taste for the subtleties of Gallicanism, while the Roman doctrine satisfied my mind with its clearness. A religion which has built the Gothic Cathedrals—the Cathedral of Exeter, for example, which I was admiring the other day—can not admit of Gallicanism, which is wanting in grandeur and simplicity. Since the Roman Catholic Church is one it stands in need of a chief—a monarch. The king of the church is the Pope. We who belong to the laity, and are perfectly instructed, deserve some indulgence, when the authority of so great a name as Bossuet erred for so long. May the Catholic Church pardon us like a mother. Had I remained in power I never would have sanctioned the invasion of Rome, which gave me infinite pain."

Why, when caricatured, is Lord Houghton (formerly Richard Monckton Milner) called "The Cool of the Evening?" Being at his club late one afternoon in company with Count D'Orsay and hearing some habitue of Gore House propose calling on Lady Blessington, Lord Houghton exclaimed, "Oh yes, and I'll go with you." "Indeed," answered Count D'Orsay loftily "are you acquainted with her ladyship?" "No but that's of no consequence. I'll accompany you, my dear fellow." "So you shall, so you shall," retorted D'Orsay. "You shall go with us, and I'll introduce you to Lady Blessington as the cool of the evening." From that day to this Lord Houghton has never been able to rid himself of a richly deserved witticism. There are some things the world never forgets.

CITY.

INCORPORATED.—Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday in the office of the County Clerk by S G Reed J C Ainsworth and C H Lewis The name of the corporation is the Puget Sound Construction and Transportation Company." The object and enterprise of the corporation shall be to construct equip maintain and operate railroads, other roads canals locks bridges telegraph lines, and other works of a public character within the limits of Washington Territory to transfer mails freight and passengers and to use such roads, canals etc for such other purposes as may be deemed necessary and expedient by the corporation to construct a telegraph line and receive and send dispatches of every character to buy, sell, hold manage dispose of all kinds of property, real, personal and mixed etc The principal office of the corporation will be located in Portland Oregon The duration of the corporation is not limited The capital stock is fixed at $1 000 000 and the amount of each share placed at $100

SUSPENDED.—Work on the improvement of the channel of the Upper Columbia has been temporarily suspended in consequence of the recent rise of the river At John Day Rapids the improvements have been wholly completed and another week's work at Umatilla Rapids would have enabled the contractor to finish the work required The river rose at the last named point five feet in two days and necessitated a speedy suspension of operations At last accounts the river was still coming up All the force employed have been discharged for the present Until the river falls much below its present stage operations must remain suspended The greatest number of men employed at one time along the river was about 75 Up to the suspension of operations work had not been commenced at all at Devil's Bend The improvements at that point are of small magnitude when compared with either of the other two, and a few weeks good weather and low water would suffice to insure the completion It is hoped that the contract will be finished by the first of April

OFF THE BAR.—As the steamer Ajax crossed the bar a vessel was seen a long way to seaward making toward the mouth of the Columbia She was too far away to be identified, and it could not be determined whether she was a bark or a schooner. The bark Webfoot and schooner Letitia are both due from San Francisco and the vessel seen was one of those crafts in all probability

TO WALLULA.—Regular communications are made through to Wallula by the O S N Co's boats The stage of water is very good, and but little difficulty experienced in reaching that point When trips will be made through to Lewiston can not be determined by the company at the present stage of water Fine pleasant weather is said to cause a fall of the river

RAFFLED.—A large and handsome hand organ, owned by a party of young men of Vancouver was put up for raffle a few days ago at that place These young gentlemen being liberally disposed offered to donate the proceeds to the Episcopal Church The offer was accepted the instrument put up and raffled off It brought the neat sum of $100

OFF FOR EUROPE.—The ship Victoria Cross was passing out to sea at 2 o'clock on last Tuesday, as the steamer Ajax was leaving Astoria for this port. The bark Ilione crossed the bar some time yesterday Both these vessels carry cargoes of grain to England

NEW FLANGE.—One of the flanges used on the steamer Oneonta has become so damaged that a new one will be placed on the shaft in a few days This work will be done while the steamer is lying at the bone yard

PASSED.—The Oriflamme was passed by the Ajax off Point Reyes, while the latter steamer was on the upward passage, and but a few hours out from San Francisco

If you want the woven wire bed, parlor and bedroom suite, the best spring and pure hair mattresses, go to Hurgren & Shindler

ART OF PLEASING

LECTURE BY REV DR LINDSLEY AT THE TAYLOR STREET M E CHURCH

The large auditorium of the Taylor street M E Church was filled last evening with a refined and appreciative assemblage of ladies and gentlemen on the occasion of the lecture delivered by Dr Lindsley on the subject of The Art of Pleasing The proceeds of the lecture were donated to Multnomah Lodge I O G T and the sum realized in this behalf was quite substantial Prayer was offered by the Rev Wm Roberts after which the lecturer was introduced by Jas A Smith Esq Want of space precludes the publication of the lecture in full We publish a few of the most prominent points

The true philosophy of social life is to please and to be pleased It is a philosophy of social exchanges which has principles as fixed as those which regulate commercial or financial circles and they who intend to enjoy themselves in social intercourse must expect to give as much as they receive

If we would maintain our credit in social circles, we must be provided to meet all drafts at sight and hence the importance of understanding the rules and ceremonies which regulate the intercourse of life in all its walks—public, social and private It is hardly worth while to mention to an intelligent audience the importance of the rules of good breeding but the frequent disregard of them in high places and in low justifies a plea in behalf of their more general observance The manners of a people are an infallible index of their progress in culture and civilization and the character of the whole nation is made up of the character of the individuals that compose it The time when sets cliques and circles ruled the world of etiquette and fashion is passing away Etiquette, the mere formalities of motion and of utterance fashion, the cut of a garment or its quality—once domineered over society as Louis XIV ruled France when he exclaimed The State it is I La belle France, the State which the boasting Bourbons made the minister of his lust and pride is a Republic to day

The rules and ceremonies which Society has established to regulate intercourse are indispensable They often take the place of words and are better understood than words could be without them They make intercourse easy, and add immensely to the common sum of happiness They pave the way to friendly intimacies and permanent attachments The man who neglects them stands in his own light, The man who despises them is either sour, or silly or low bred And the utilitarian inquires Does it pay? It is an old saying that politeness costs nothing and this being so it is a case in which a small investment brings back rich and unfailing returns This is emphatically true in business affairs and doubtless we all know gentlemen whose address is so pleasing and manners so courteous, and sincerity so transparent that we seem to be put under some sort of obligation to transact business with them In all the dealings of life as well as in social intercourse, the effort to please, yields a rich reward

In a woman, the effort to please heightens beauty and when beauty is wanting it throws an indescribable charm around the person which makes you forget that she is plain looking, and finally under the magic spell you conclude that beauty is relative and that the loveliness which the art of pleasing develops is far more valuable than exterior graces, and will last much longer In a man the art of pleasing is the golden key to success He wants a few other keys made of steel, such as integrity, proficiency and diligence But a man who possesses this art is always popular and sometimes idolized The politician who has it distances his competitor The lover who possesses it outshines his rivals Many a worthless fellow has won the heart of innocence and beauty by that fascinating art, the absence of which has caused many a worthy suitor to be discouraged In the conduct of daily life we need the vigor of the strong and the polish of the mild Both united and co operative give the best promises of success, and make a life useful and happy No class or calling no man or woman should be destitute of their union It should be illustrated in every walk of life It should decorate the loftiest and adorn the lowliest As a means of success in life it is always powerful, for the gentle virtues oft triumph when the stern ones fail

The brightest conception we can form of a man is one who understands his own powers, and knows how to govern and direct them who constantly exerts them for his own and others' good, who has a deep sense of the sacredness of duty, and resolves to discharge it, unmindful of consequences, who gives all truth a welcome, and all virtue in others a chance, who frowns on all evil doings, while he endeavors to rescue the authors of it and to save its victims This is a great man, but he will be greater in his goodness if he looks with a lenient eye upon the errors of others if he sympathizes with them in their sorrow and tries to relieve them with a goodness which is not forbidding, and a liberality which is not stinted and who moves in whatever station he may occupy in whatever calling he may be engaged with a firm, manly and dignified step a conscious purpose, a calm and gentle spirit all reflected in the habitual manners The true gentleman is benevolent His manners are engaging address agreeable, and his professions honorable Lacking the essential element—if acts of benevolence are wanting—all the charms of exterior grace are splendid mockeries When an act of kindness is impossible, a word of courtesy and grace may fill a suffering heart with peace

The true gentleman is pure in speech Intelligence and self possession naturally lead a man to use moderate language and prevent him from indulging in vulgarity or exaggeration The employment of superlative and extravagant figures in place of argument and facts, is a common practice of ill regulated minds The interweaving of profane expressions in common discourse implies want of taste and want of character Oaths are often used to fortify a statement which ought to rest upon the narrator's veracity and yet it is a fact that profanity does not strengthen the statement at all, but rather weakens it Men of intelligence and self respect never have occasion for such revolting expressions Obscenity, as well as vulgarity, are alike foreign to the conversation of a true gentleman In conclusion, the lecturer referred to the leading characteristics in the lives of great men—Washington, Aaron Burr Andrew Jackson Philip Sidney Napoleon George III, and others to illustrate the principles of good breeding, sentiment social culture and politeness as exemplified in their lives The lecture was one of Dr Lindsley's most pleasing and instructive efforts and was listened to by the large audience with marked attention from beginning to close

A fire at Parkersburg West Virginia, on March 11th, destroyed a block of stores on Market street—the principal business part Owing to a lack of water the fire soon became unmanageable Ten business places and the Methodist church and parsonage were destroyed The loss is estimated at $80 000 mostly insured

The Woodburn Turbine Wheel Company's buildings, at Indianapolis, were burned on March 12th The loss is estimated at $100 000, fully covered by insurance including $2 500 in the Fireman's Fund of San Francisco. During the fire Chief Engineer Daniel Glazier entered a window on the second story, and while in the act of giving orders to his men a brick wall fell, burying him beneath the debris He was extricated as speedily as possible, but only lived a few minutes

In the Senate on March 12th on motion of Conkling, it was resolved that the Committee on Judiciary be instructed to inquire and report at the December session of the Senate whether the Union Pacific Railroad Company, or any other company authorized to build a branch road to connect therewith, or any assignee of such company will be entitled to lands or bonds for any road which such company may hereafter construct and that until said Committee shall report, the executive officers of the Government are requested to issue no bonds or patent certificates that may be claimed for any road constructed and reported after this date

The office of United States Collector of Internal Revenue at Kansas City, and at the same time the Union German Savings Bank at Kansas City Mo were set on fire March 11th Both fires were speedily extinguished In the Collector's office the books, papers and from $20 000 to $30,000 worth of stamps were so badly damaged as to be valueless In the bank the vault was found open and robbed and the papers in the vault found burning. About $7,000 was taken from the bank The vault lock was a combination and had been unlocked not, broken open It is expected that some startling revelations will be made in connection with these fires

An extraordinary suicide occurred at Franklin, Pa on March 14th Thomas F Anderson, cashier of the Lamberton Bank, opened the bank at the usual hour He was afterwards noticed running in and out of the bank in a hurried and excited manner, and then hurrying toward his residence Smoke was then seen issuing from the bank, which was entered by several persons, supposing it on fire They, however, discovered the grate heaped with bank notes, the papers rapidly being consumed The fire was extinguished, and the notes, bonds, etc, drawn out, some in a charred condition, while the others were burned to ashes Meanwhile, Anderson, reaching his house, entered the back door, handed his wife a letter, and, drawing a pistol shot himself through the head, dying soon after. He left several letters, the contents of which have not yet been made public A note left by him on the counter stated that he had destroyed all special deposits and bills receivable Thirty eight thousand dollars in bonds belonging to Lamberton bank were burned The total amount destroyed cannot be as yet ascertained The cause of Anderson's conduct is not positively known, but is believed to be his irregularities in conducting the business of the bank. It is known he was carrying large overdrafts for the accommodation of personal friends unauthorized by the bank The bank was soon to change hands, and he was requested to have the accounts and books in complete order at a certain date, which would expose these irregularities. The bank loses heavily.

The confession of Osborne, hanged at Knoxville, Ill, March 14th, for the murder of Mrs Matthews, reveals one of the most horrible crimes ever perpetrated. He says that he was hired to murder her by a man who was to give him $5 000, his object being to get rid of her as a witness in an important lawsuit He went to the house and found her alone She asked him to eat, and prepared food for him, going down in the cellar for butter. He followed her, knocked her down and then crushed her skull with a brick. He then went up stairs and rifled the drawers, with the view to create the impression that the murder was committed for plunder. He next returned to the cellar and found that his victim was not dead She turned her eyes up to him, and he asked her if she knew who he was. She replied in the affirmative and said, "Oh, why did you do this horrible deed?" The assassin then coolly took a knife and cut her throat, she did not move or struggle He solemnly declares that he did not outrage her person The conduct of this wretch, since his conviction, has been, in the main, coarse and brutal On the way from Galesburg where he had been confined, to Knoxville, where he was hanged, he engaged in ribald jests and vulgar tales He mounted the scaffold with a firm, fearless tread and a smile upon his features, and stood unmoved while his arms were pinioned and the fatal noose adjusted When the drop fell a horrible scene was witnessed His neck was not broken, and slowly and with horrible contortions he was strangled to death Outside the jail between 5 000 and 6 000 people were gathered, but only the number allowed by law were permitted to witness the execution

The Atmosphere of Spring

With every [illegible] of season [illegible] a change in the hygienic character of the air In the spring it is impregnated especially in low lying wet districts with mephitic vapors which generate chills and fever, rheumatism indigestion biliousness and diseases of the organs of respiration It is therefore particularly necessary at this time of the year to invigorate and regulate the system so as to enable it to repel the morbid influences to which it is more or less subjected The stomach should be toned the bowels freed from obstructions the blood purified and the nerves braced and strengthened This can be easily done Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are everywhere procurable, and in the whole range of remedies and preventives prescribed by the faculty or recommended through the press, there is not one that combines in such an eminent degree great efficiency and perfect harmlessness It is a positive antidote to malaria Whoever takes it habitually may breathe the atmosphere of the worst fever and ague locality without danger Damp and chilling winds make little or no impression on the organization reinforced with this powerful vegetable invigorant and consequently it is a good safeguard against asthma coughs colds and other pulmonary complaints It is recommended as a remedy for this latter class of maladies but simply as a means of strengthening the system against the aerial conditions and changes which sometimes produce them As a spring invigorant and alterative it will be found extremely beneficial to persons who are peculiarly sensitive to unhealthy atmospheric influences

PLANTATION BITTERS!
S. T.--1860--X.
This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Exciting Scenes.

A [illegible] IN THE STREETS OF NEW YORK

Among the arrivals at this port says the New York Star lately, was the ship City of Sparta which craft brought a very interesting cargo Among the consignments were a number of rare wild beasts including four huge Asiatic elephants a Sumatran black rhinoceros a horned horse, three Bengal tiger etc the property of Mr A Forepaugh, the well known showman

Yesterday the work of removing these animals from the vessel to the wharf was commenced Several of the beasts including the elephants, had been safely landed and everything progressed satisfactorily until about noon, when one of the crew informed Mr Forepaugh, who was superintending the embarkation on the dock that one of the tigers had become very restive and was exhibiting a disposition to break from his cage The sailor further stated that the beast, in tearing about his cage, had partially succeeded in wrenching it from the strong planks which constituted its floor

Mr Forepaugh only smiled at the fears of the sailor, and went on with his work and here the matter dropped for the time being After all the smaller animals together with the elephants, had been landed the workmen turned their attention to the rhinoceros who was confined in a huge box of thick planks the corners of which were heavily bound with strong iron bands Just as the cage had been rolled to the pier the workmen were startled at seeing several of the sailors, half dead with fright, come tumbling upon the dock shouting out as they did so that one of the tigers had succeeded in escaping from his cage

Instantly consternation was spread around The crowd of sight seers dispersed in a moment, flying in all directions

The elephants who were standing quietly in the street were seized with a frenzy and began a stampede Chains were snapped asunder as if mere threads, and the animals were moving away at the utmost speed

The tiger's escape was a reality—a terrible reality—for after bounding up the platform which connected the ship with the dock he had reached the street and fastened himself to the back of a horse attached to a cart belonging to Morgan, Reed & Co, and the poor beast lay dying Policeman Munro moved toward the animal, who was enjoying his quiet repast, but the tiger raising his head, deigned not to notice the minion of the law and returned to his prey It cost him his life for the officer, with a well aimed shot from his revolver, killed the beast. He was valued at $3,000

Masonry in Persia.—Of the Persian officers who are at present in Berlin pursuing military studies and making themselves acquainted with Prussian military organization and arrangements, one belongs to the Masonic order He is a Mussulman He seems to have spontaneously sought recognition as a member of the craft at a Berlin Lodge and his claim was allowed only after such an examination as satisfied the brethren that he was one of them From the statement of this Persian Mason, it appears that nearly all the members of the Persian Court belong to the mystic order, even as German Masonry enjoys the honor of counting the Emperor and Crown Prince among its adherents The appearance of this Mohammedan Mason in Berlin seems to have excited a little surprise among some of the brethren there and the surprise would be natural enough to persons not aware of the extent to which Masonry has been diffused over the earth Account for it as one may, the truth is certain that the mysterious order was established in the Orient many years ago Nearly all the old Mohammedan buildings in India, such as tombs, mosques etc, are marked with the Masonic symbols, and many of these structures still perfect, were built in the time of the Mogul Emperor Akbar, who died in 1605 Thus, Masonry must have been introduced into India from Middle Asia by the Mohammedans, hundreds of years ago

The Postal Cards.—The contract for the manufacture of the new postal cards has been awarded to the Morgan Envelope Company, of Springfield, Mass at $1 38⅞ per thousand The contract is to run four years, and calls for the delivery of 100 000,000 of cards the first year, though the number may be increased at the option of the Department Four millions of the cards are to be made by the first of May, when the contract takes effect They are to be three by five and one eighth inches in size, made from bond paper, and the card-board must weigh six pounds per 1 000 cards They are to be done up in parcels of twenty five, and packed up in strong pasteboard or straw boxes, each to contain 500 cards When 1,000 or more cards are required to fill the order of a postmaster, they must also be packed in strong wooden boxes, well hooped with iron, the expense of packing and freighting to Washington to be borne by the contractor As the postage on the cards is to be only one cent, it is anticipated that this mode of communication will become exceedingly popular, especially with business men and if so, the demand for the cards will be much greater than one hundred millions per year, at least during the second, third and fourth years of the contract

The Price of Type.—The New York Newspaper Reporter asserts that a reduction is soon to be made in the price of printing type A committee of the leading founders has already been formed to decide upon the amount of reduction and the time when it shall take place The Reporter says it is settled that the reduction shall be made upon body type or the type used in printing the ordinary reading matter in books and newspapers This type, the same paper alleges, pays a profit of fifty per cent and will well bear a reduction of fifteen to twenty five per cent But fancy type or that used in printing jobs and displayed lines in advertisements which pays a profit of from two hundred to four hundred per cent is to remain unchanged The reason for this is that printers buy job type in small lots, and from day to day endeavoring to keep on hand as great a variety as possible, and to get the new styles which are constantly appearing

The Abolition Question in Cuba.—Havana Dispatches of March 10th say Rumors are current of the early departure of General Ceballos and that he will be succeeded by a General who will not only hold opinions corresponding with those of the present Government of Spain but will act in concert with the Government

Leading slaveholders have recently been in session almost nightly considering the situation, but have not yet been able to determine upon any plan of action or arrive at any solution of the slavery question The position assumed, or action taken, by conservative pro slavery leaders will however, be immaterial as the negroes are well informed on everything going on It is rumored that the abolition of slavery has already been decreed The middle and poorer classes deprecate the carelessness of slave owners in making no provision for the abolition of slavery, and the belief is obtaining ground that in the event of abolition being decreed the wealthy slave owners will become inimical to the prosperity of the island.

A Spirited Wager.—A Prussian Baron who long before the war had married a Parisian lady lately entertained a number of his friends At the dessert the elated gentleman began as usual to crow over the decadence of France maintaining above all that Paris would never recover its former standing, and that Berlin would soon be the capital of Europe in every respect The lady upheld the contrary point of view as long as she could but at last losing her temper she said "But any of you give me no matter what and I will bet you something will be made of it in Paris which Berlin could not do" The wager was accepted and next morning she received from one of the party with a gray hair carefully boxed up To make the matter short the Baroness a few days afterward invited her guest to examine the artistic use made by a Parisian jeweler of the gray hair There was an exquisite and costly medallion representing the Prussian spread eagle in [illegible] holding in one of its claws the same hair A white enamel escutcheon above it bore the following inscription "Alsace Lorraine which you only hold by a single gray hair" It is stated that the gentleman did not offer to make another wager

Some light as to what has become of the money that usually flows into the Eastern commercial centers is afforded by the state of affairs in the West The Chicago Tribune reports that the condition of finances in that city continues to improve that money appears to be plenty in the country and that a great deal of capital from the Eastern cities is moving that way for investment in one way or another Bankers are [illegible] daily receipt of letters from capitalists in the East offering sums ranging from $20 000 to $100 000 for investment either in loans at 10 per cent or in the purchase of products or of real estates in that city "The fact is" says the Tribune "that the larger profits of trade in the West and the steady increase in values of real estate here justify the higher rates of interest paid in the West and afford capitalists a larger margin of security than they can get in the Eastern cities Capitalists know the increase of population trade and wealth in the West and it is a fair presumption that they are not slow to move part of their available funds permanently to this part of the country The great strength of the commercial position of Chicago was never fully demonstrated until she passed through the ordeal of the great fire But now that she has not only passed through it triumphantly and, with the city rebuilt has a much greater trade than before capitalists are more willing than before to invest money in trade manufacturing and loans here

The Boston Journal of Commerce has a full table of the exports of specie during the past six years from New York and San Francisco and says "As these two ports include the whole business the totals in the third column represent the whole export from the country

Year	At New York	At San Francisco	Total
1872	$70 040 000	$26 270 000	$[illegible] 91[illegible] 000
1871	61 050 000	9 [illegible]00 000	71 1[illegible]0 000
1870	58 130 000	19 540 000	[illegible] 000
1869	32 110 000	4 830 000	36 940 000
1868	70 840 000	13 976 000	84 816 000
1867	51 800 000	18 320 000	70 120 000

These figures are instructive but not amusing The exports for 1872 exceed that of 1871 by $[illegible] 000 The production of all precious metals has largely increased since 1869 and of these silver makes at least one third The total product of gold and silver for the past year is estimated at $[illegible]0 000 000 and the export of specie was $96 910 000 Nor is this all The United States Treasury held on the first of the year less specie than it had a year ago by something over $[illegible]0 000 000 If we take the exports with the estimated production, we notice that the stock in the country has been diminished at least $[illegible] 000 000 If we take the treasury stock above the decrease appears to be much greater This difference arises in part from the fact that silver seldom goes into the treasury Be this as it may the fact is palpable that our stock of specie is largely depleted and had not the increased production come to our rescue there is no saying where we should be to-day It is a fancy with some to think the country enormously rich and that we can still go on in the good old stupid way of calling a paper dollar a gold dollar

Tonnage at San Francisco.

The following in regard to the tonnage at San Francisco is from the Commercial Herald of the 15th inst and is evidence of the rate at which charters might be obtained at our port the difference against us being generally estimated by ship owners at £1 per ton

The market for freights to the United Kingdom seems to be sadly demoralized It is a difficult matter to know how to quote rates at this writing There are several first-class A 1 ships here, which the owners say they cannot get for them over £4 charters for Wheat to Liverpool Others say they cannot get a ship at £4 Now then we know that at this writing vessels to Cork for orders can be got at £4 5s, and I do not believe that a square offer of £4 to a direct port in the United Kingdom would be refused There are several vessels yet to arrive holding charters at £4 and upward and if not in upon the day of limitation will be canceled There is at this date more disengaged tonnage in port than for many months past

On the same question another exchange from San Francisco says "The outlook for tonnage for the movement of the next Wheat crop is not very encouraging At this time last year we had 111 vessels on the way here from domestic Atlantic and foreign ports mostly ships and barks The prospect for an abundant Wheat crop was not then so promising than now Indeed it is fair to presume that the crop to be harvested in this State next July and August will show a large gain on that gathered last year And yet the inward bound fleet to-day numbers only 122 vessels including about 20 schooners and other small craft unsuitable for grain The high rates which continue to be paid for tonnage in all the leading seaports of the world justify the prediction that nothing but liberal inducements will attract vessels here in sufficient numbers to move the crops next season From present appearances we shall need more vessels than for the past season and will have to pay full rates for them

Miscellaneous.

The number of vessels belonging to or bound to or from ports in the United States reported totally lost and missing during the past month is 49 of which 21 were wrecked 13 abandoned 2 burned 5 foundered and 8 are missing They are classed as follows—3 steamers 10 ships 16 barques 5 brigs and 15 schooners and their total value exclusive of cargoes is estimated at $1 360 000

The San Francisco Market Review of the 15th says the steamer Great Republic hence for Panama March 11th took $2 3[illegible]4 18 in gold bars shipped for England by S H Holmes Steamer Montana hence March 7th took $20 000 gold coin shipped by John Parrott for San Jose de Guatemala and $2 [illegible]0 gold coin recently Flatt & Newton for Punta Arenas

The total export of Wheat from California from the beginning of the present harvest year up to March 15th was [illegible]8 012 920 centals

The New York Shipping List of February 22d reports the Wool market as follows There has been a better demand and there is a [illegible] feeling generally among dealers The few manufacturers that are in the city are purchasing quite freely at the present reduced rates Holders are of the opinion that prices have touched bottom and that the question of receding further is a thing of the past Receipts of Domestic [illegible] and are mostly of a good quality The quantity of Foreign [illegible] at is estimated at a very low figure The stock here is considered sufficient for all present demands and is well assorted Sales included 15 bales Spring California at 3[illegible] 50 do Fall do 32a36c 5 000 lbs scoured do 80@90 30 bales Oregon 47@49c ⅌ lb 15 000 lbs Spring California private

A San Francisco paper says the price of Quicksilver in London has lately advanced [illegible] supposed to be caused by political troubles in Spain The market price here has been advanced to 9 cents and the orders in hand far exceed our ability to supply The production [illegible] at the increased demand and unless the troubles soon cease in Spain prices will advance considerably more

Webb's Australian line from San Francisco [illegible] to exist the steamers having been purchased by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company No more steamers will be dispatched by either line to the Colonies though it is said that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company will keep up the Honolulu monthly service

There is no change of the shipping in our port except the arrival of the Ajax from San Francisco with passengers and 620 tons assorted freight

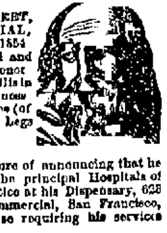
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary.



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency, etc, Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms unless combated by scientific medical measures viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the faces furred tongue, feted breath coughs consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells Fargo & Co a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary one of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers etc The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure

Address DR J F GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957
